The Waiting Game

Age/Level: Any  Time: 5 to 10 minutes  Players: Class  Preparation: None

Aim: To ask and answer questions

Need an idea for something to do while you are waiting for your students to turn up? Try this enjoyable question and answer game.

Procedure

Write 'You' and 'Me' on the board.

'You' represents the students and 'Me' represents the teacher.

Go around the class and play rock, paper, scissors with each student.

If a student wins, they score a point and must ask you a question.

If you win, you get a point and must ask the student a question.

After everyone has played, add up the scores.
