Introduction

This is a fun category game for students of English.

Procedure

Divide the students into teams of three or four. This game can also be played individually or in pairs.

Give each team a number and write the numbers on the board.

Next to each number draw three stick men.

The stick men represent each team's number of lives.

Call out a category, e.g. countries.

The teams' task is to think of words that relate to that category.

Set a time limit for giving answers, e.g. five seconds.

Each team in turn says one word relating to the category and this continues around the class.

If a team takes too long to answer, can't think of a word or repeats a word, they lose a life.

When a team loses all three lives, they are out of the game.

Continue with the category until there is only one team left. That team wins the round and scores a point.

Play several rounds using a different category each time.

The team with the most points at the end of the game is the winner.
