Introduction

This interactive worksheet helps students master the sentence structures used with adverbs of frequency.

Procedure

Ask the students to write their name at the top of the sheet.

Go through the adverbs of frequency at the bottom of the worksheet and draw the students' attention to the structures and examples.

Remind them that when a sentence uses the verb 'to be', the frequency adverb is followed by an adjective.

Students then complete the sentences by writing true information about themselves based on the adverbs of frequency on the worksheet.

When the students have finished, review their sentences and provide feedback.
