Introduction

In this enjoyable worksheet activity, students ask and answer questions about someone's bucket list using the present perfect with 'yet' and 'already'.

Procedure

Write 'bucket list' on the board. Ask the students what they think it means. If necessary, explain the meaning.

A bucket list: A list of all the things you want to do, achieve, or experience before you die.

Ask individual students what things they would like to write on their bucket list. Write their suggestions on the board.

Next, divide the students into pairs (A and B).

Give each student a corresponding part of the worksheet.

Explain that the students are going to ask and answer questions about Mr. Thomson's bucket list using the present perfect with 'yet' and 'already'.

Read the introduction text about Mr. Thomson to the class.

Student A then takes on the role of Mr. Thomson's assistant and Student B plays the role of Mr. Thomson.

The assistant asks Mr. Thomson questions about the activities he has or hasn't done to help him write his bucket list.

Student A asks present perfect yes/no questions using 'yet' and marks Student B's answers on the worksheet.

Student B replies using the present perfect with 'already' for affirmative answers and 'yet' for negative answers. The student uses the information in the box to reply.

When Student A has finished asking questions, the students swap roles.

When everyone has finished, go through the combined items that would be on Mr. Thomson's bucket list.

As an extension, the students can write their own bucket lists.
